

MERRYMAKERS SAW TWO PEOPLE DROWN

Mistook Explosion on Barge for Part of Pyrotechnic Display And Applauded.

BODIES NOT RECOVERED.

When Seen Struggling in the Water, Spectators in Small Boats Went To the Rescue.

Burlington, Ia., Aug. 20.—While hundreds of merry-makers watched without any feeling of alarm, thinking the occurrence part of a pyrotechnic display on the water, four persons tonight jumped from a burning boat into the Mississippi river and two women were drowned. The bodies were not recovered.

An elaborate display of fireworks was set off on a barge in the middle of the river as part of a carnival. Many launches and rowboats gathered around the barge. It was announced that there would be a set piece representing the destruction of a vessel by fire showing passengers jumping overboard to escape the flames.

Consequently when the store of gunpowder on the barge caught fire and flames leaped in all directions, the spectators only applauded. The explosion set fire to the launch which contained Marshall Jordan and wife, Mrs. J. D. Conover and two men, all of Mount Pleasant, Mo. As soon as the reports of the prematurely exploded fireworks died out, spectators in small boats observed the five persons struggling in the water and went to their rescue. But Mrs. Marshall Jordan and Mrs. Conover had disappeared. The others were taken from the water exhausted.

PROTECTING POWERS' NOTE TO TURKEY

London, Aug. 20.—In the joint note on the Cretan situation presented to the powers yesterday, the four protecting powers, Great Britain, Russia, Italy and France, expressed regret that Turkey had not left the settlement of the Cretan question in their hands. In this connection it is pointed out that the powers have shown every disposition to safeguard Turkish interests in Crete. Regarding Macedonia, the note suggests that the best course for the powers to pursue in the interest of peace is to appeal to the powers signing the Berlin treaty and lay before them any grievances Turkey may have.

DAY OF BIG SHEEP RANCHES IS OVER

Helena, Aug. 20.—"The day of big sheep ranches is over, due to the coming of the dry land farmer and the settling up of the available range," declared Charles McDonald, state senator from Sweet Grass county, who was here today from Big Timber. "If the Montana sheepman is going to make money, he must sell above 18 cents. For it is that much to run them. Formerly when there was plenty of range, expenses were not so great, and wages were also lower. But now the sheepman must own or lease nearly all his own range, must have big hayfields for winter feed, and there are other expenses of maintenance which were formerly unnecessary. "At present it is almost impossible to procure all the range that is needed."

WOMEN GET UGLY. TAKE UP STRIKERS' CAUSE

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 21.—Five hundred women took a hand today in the agitation resulting from the Pressed Steel Car company's strike. After tossing paving stones at the company's property the women went after the company's restaurant. A number of the company's office employees who were eating, ducked under chairs, tables and lunch counters when bricks and stones came flying through the windows. The clerks could not be persuaded to face the female mob until the state troops got into the fray. The troopers rode horses. The soldiers could not scare the women, however, and had to hammer some of them on the heads with riot clubs before they could be subdued. A supposed attempt to burn the company's plant early today caused some excitement. Later, some of the strikers objected strongly to a squad of new workmen marching into the plant. Shots were fired, but no one was injured.

CADETS BEGIN CAMPAIGN FOR REINSTATEMENT

New York, Aug. 21.—John Booker, Jr., Richard W. Hooker, Earl W. Dunmore, Chauncey C. Devere, Gordon Lefevre, Albert E. Crane and Jacob S. Fortner, the cadets who have just been dismissed from West Point for having hazed Cadet Sutton are all quartered at the Hotel Astor. The young men refused to discuss their dismissal in any way, declaring that they had been advised to keep silent, but it is reported that they have discussed the best method to follow in order to be reinstated and they have come to the conclusion

According to accounts from West Point, the dismissal of the seven cadets was not with a sort of surprise, but at the regular Friday social hop. This dance is usually attended by from 150 to 200 cadets, but when the grand march started, scarcely 20 cadets took part. The remainder of the corps remained away in the camp.

John H. Booker, Jr., of West Point, Ga., the first class cadet, would have graduated next June and received notice of dismissal while in camp of instruction, at Fort Hancock. Sandy Hook was the last of the dismissed cadets to leave the academy. After his departure, the cadet camp was subject to considerable depression.

BEE STINGS DROVE MAN MAD.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 21.—Made mad by a combination of bee and rattlesnake poison R. Lane, a farmer of Fresno Creek, fought his companions for three hours until medical aid arrived.

One of the men killed a rattlesnake and, donning a pair of gloves, skinned the reptile. In the afternoon Lane borrowed the gloves to wear while loading lumber. While engaged in this work he disturbed a nest of little yellow bees, which stung him on the neck and arm, and in fighting them he kept rubbing the gloves on the spots where the bees had punctured his skin.

The poison took effect at once and Lane became a maniac. He is recovering.

MILITARY AIRSHIP FALLS 600 FEET

Rome, Aug. 21.—A new military airship with a crew of six men fell 600 feet in an ascension today and landed in Lake Bracciano with a tremendous splash. The accident was caused by the escape of gas which could not be checked. The crew was rescued, but the airship was considerably damaged. If the airship had fallen on land there probably would have been several fatalities.

CHILDREN TO BE BORN WITH SILVER MEDALS IN MOUTHS

Portsmouth, Va., Aug. 21.—Because reports on births have not been made promptly the mayor has declared his intention to offer on the part of the city a silver medal bearing the name and birth of every child born. It will carry with it on the opposite side of the medal the seal of the city.

If parents fail to report for medals, the mayor proposes to have attending physicians and parents fined.

MUTUAL LIABILITY OF FATHER AND CHILDREN

Chicago, Aug. 21.—"A father not willing to regard his children as a liability when they are powerless to support themselves is not entitled to consider them an asset when they are enjoying the fruits of prosperity."

This ruling made yesterday by Judge Williams, spoiled the prospects of John Griffin from becoming a charge on the family he is alleged to have deserted 35 years ago.

Griffin is 84 years old. His four children told the court of the existence of their dead mother and how she labored at the wash tub to educate and clothe the children. The testimony showed that previous to his disappearance Griffin made $7 a day as a "lumber pusher" around the docks and dissipated much of his earnings.

In leaving the courtroom the son said:

"I am worth at least $20,000 and am willing to make a liberal donation to any worthy person who appeals for aid, but that old man will never get a cent from me. I would go to jail first."

A physician who was summoned declared that the violinist had died of heart failure.

GREAT HIGHWAY IS TO BE BUILT

Plans for Road from Mexico Through Four States to Yellowstone Park—Convict Labor.

(Special Correspondence.)

Denver, Aug. 19.—An international highway, extending from the republic of Mexico to the Yellowstone park, is the dream of Judge C. J. Gavin, who is the father of the state road now under construction near Trinidad, and who has just returned from a trip of inspection over the work which has so far been accomplished by convict labor.

It sounds Utopian, perhaps, but it is nevertheless a possibility, and the present generation is likely to see it fulfilled. The thirty-mile strip of road between Starville and Raton, begun in the nature of an experiment with convict labor, and proved to be a wonderful success, will be the nucleus of the gigantic project, and before the Transmississippi congress adjourns, Judge Gavin will speak before the delegates on the subject of the plan, which will soon be taken up by all the western states interested.

Judge Gavin took a trip by automobile over the completed portion of the road between Starville and Raton, a distance of about 30 miles, and he returned enthusiastic beyond measure over what he had seen.

"It is a credit to the state of Colorado, and the territory of New Mexico, and a credit to the convicts who have done the work," he declares.

FINE FOR CONVICTS.

The Colorado convicts from the penitentiary at Canon City did the work from this side of the line, and the New Mexican convicts from Santa Fe worked from the other end. The camp of the Colorado convicts has become famous the country over for the order and discipline which it has attained the system. The guard over them is merely perfunctory. No arms are kept in camp, and while a convict is allowed to go to the store, prisoners have found the work so much more pleasant than at Canon City that they consider themselves decidedly fortunate when they are sent to the camp. They are allowed a certain amount of time off for their work on the road, and few have tried to escape from the camp. Just now they are located at Starville, and are working into Trinidad. Recently ball game made up of convicts played a team of Elks from Trinidad, and they are allowed other privileges and pleasures unknown in prison.

MEXICO TO JOIN IN PLAN.

The New Mexican convicts are working in the vicinity of Cimarron, and they are moving south to connect with the route to the Yellow River. El Paso is the objective point. The state of Texas will co-operate, and undoubtedly the government of Mexico, with its progressive ideas, will carry the road to the south. The state of Colorado will build the road from Trinidad through Walsenburg, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Denver and eventually to Fort Collins and the Wyoming line. From there it will be carried on to the Yellowstone National park, and if the dream of Judge Gavin comes true, as seems most likely, a person will be able to go by automobile over a continuous road, and enjoy the scenic beauty from the national park clear to the other end of the American republic.

Judge Gavin got Senator Casimero Barcia of Las Animas county to introduce the bill which made the starting of the road possible. It follows the line of the old Camino real, or King's highway, over the Raton range. The territory of New Mexico had made provision to take up the work on the other end.

COST IS LOWERED.

When the convicts were first sent to Trinidad many people shook their heads, declaring that the scheme was not feasible, and that escapes would quickly depopulate the camp, but success has attended it from the very first. It is now regarded as the model convict camp of the world.

The humanitarian feature of Judge Gavin's plan appears immediately in helping the unfortunate criminals in the best manner ever devised, giving them out-of-door employment, which builds them up physically and morally, and does not keep them in conflict with union labor.

The cost of the work is nominal, compared to what it would be without convicts. It would require so many millions of dollars to build the highway under any other system that it would be almost out of the question. With all the states co-operating in the use of the prisoners, the expense is reduced to a minimum.

The Colorado road is about 15 feet wide on an average, and Judge Gavin pronounces it a marvelous piece of work in many places the road is blasted through solid rock for considerable distances.

BEAUTIFUL SCENERY.

The highway traverses a picturesque country, and the judge declares that his drive was one of the most wonderful from a scenic standpoint that he had ever experienced. It is planned to have the highway follow the routes which touch the most historic places of the west.

"All our western country has scenery which is beyond description. That being true, the great highway will place it on the market for the benefit of the world at a nominal cost. What has been accomplished at Trinidad demonstrates that convict labor can be used for the public good, and public employment, without coming in contact with our union labor, besides it is doing something for the convicts themselves. "With such a highway traversing the west, it is certain that there would be no more of those offshoots or spurs to the main artery, as local enterprises would come even to an end, where near the big road to build it."

SEEKS TO ERECT LINOLEUM MILL

John H. Riley Says Flax Can Be Grown in Dry Farm for Enterprise.

The "News" received today with the request that it be published the following communication from John H. Riley on the subject of starting a mill in this city for the manufacture of linoleum and oil cloth:

"To the Public of Salt Lake and District: "I have been trying my best, for the last four or five years, to get some industrial works put up in Salt Lake City in the shape of a linoleum and oilcloth mill.

I have succeeded in growing flaxseed which we will have by next year. We hope to have a mill put up by the old copper plant. W. E. Hubbard has given a site of 10 acres near Ninth West and Tenth North streets, close to the copper plant for the flax. We expect to organize by the end of the month a company.

"I have some friends who have promised to lease me 150 acres of land for five years to grow the flax. Anyone who wishes to lease land for such use can do so on the same terms.

"Flax can be grown on dry land as well as irrigated land, and it is a growing success. This will give employment to a few hundred people in the near future.

"Any persons who have been connected with the flax industry, or with any kind of oilcloth mills can communicate with me on the matter. I shall be pleased to have an interview with them. I find through my study for the welfare of the country, and the industry, I am prepared to meet any persons, financially or otherwise, on these matters.

"I have letters from men of Utah and Nevada, and also from the different parts of the United States on this subject, which I can show to anyone. Dr. Ball of the experiment station at Logan wishes me to establish a flax seedling as much flaxseed as possible in these valleys, as there is great profit in it. I also have a letter from a linen firm in Duluth, Minn., with a view to put up a linen mill and grow flax for five years, provided the farmers grow the flaxseed to get the fiber. It will be a great benefit to Utah, Idaho, Montana and in fact, this whole intermountain region.

"A friend of mine, a Mr. Cox, grew flaxseed and run an oil mill and made oil and oil-cake some 45 years ago, in this city, which was very profitable at that time. There is no waste from the flaxseed or its straw. It is all used for making linen and burlap in making oilcloth.

"I hope those interested in home industry will rally around me with a determination to help this enterprise along, as it is high time we had some kind of mills here for the working class of people. I am well acquainted with friends from the old country, who made this kind of goods and some of my friends are varnish makers. There are many emigrants from the old country who come here at a loss about getting employment and could find positions more readily if mills were erected, and there is plenty of room for them. Most of them are used to this kind of work.

"I have other matters to put before you in my next letter, which will show more clearly the plans of this enterprise, which the public will take an interest in the welfare of the country and help promote this home industry for the benefit of the state at large."

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being out away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is built up and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.
